Question: Write a short scenario where a user moves from TOFU to BOFU for a food delivery app like Swiggy. Describe the keywords they search at each stage and the type of content they interact with along the way.

Answer:

A college student first searches "best food delivery apps" on Google. This is the TOFU stage, where the user reads blogs and guides to learn about different food delivery options.

Next, the student searches "Swiggy vs Zomato" and "best food delivery app Ahmedabad." This is the MOFU stage, where the user compares prices, offers, restaurants, and delivery services through comparison articles and reviews.

Finally, the student searches "Swiggy order food online" and opens the Swiggy app. This is the BOFU stage, where the user checks restaurants, selects food, applies an offer, and places the order.

Question: Choose a product or service you are interested in (not the one used in class) and identify one TOFU keyword, one MOFU keyword, and one BOFU keyword. For each, suggest a headline or title for a piece of content that would attract users at that stage.
